Since his election to the role, he has spoken in Parliament about a number of local issues including the future of Ryde Hospital, and the increase to the Parking Space Levy (a subject near and dear to many a business person's heart in the corporate areas of our City). Victor has also hosted a series of community forums designed to engage the community in finding a solution to the graffiti problem - another issue which affects many local businesses and impacts on the business precincts in Ryde in general.

Join us for breakfast and an update from Victor on his lobbying and work to date on local issues, and key Liberal party plans to fix NSW and its future.
